The Abstract Sculpture at Armenian Heritage Park on The Greenway commemorates the immigrant experience.

The split rhomboid dodecahedron is symbolic of those who left their countries of origin and came to Massachusetts, establishing themselves in new and different ways. Moreover, the Abstract Sculpture is dedicated to victims of the Armenian genocide of 1915 to 1923, and to those of all succeeding genocides.

Every early spring, a crane lifts and pulls apart the two halves of the steel-and-aluminum work to create a new sculptural shape.
